To Whom it May Concern

This is to certify that Infrastructure Professionals Enterprise Private Limited (IPE) has completed two phases of the Solid Waste Management (SWM) Learning Program in India through separate contracts awarded by the World Bank Institute. The objective of the assignment is to build the in-house capability of urban local bodies (ULBs) to improve SWM services in terms of MSW Rules 2000.

In the first phase, starting from January 2006, the process of stakeholder consultations, detailed training needs assessment, documentation of best practices, development of training modules and pilot training were completed satisfactorily.

In the second phase of the program, a national workshop was conducted, which received full support and commitment from the Ministry of Urban Development and other line ministries to carry forward the SWM Learning Program in India.

In the third phase, the program will be scaled up and implemented in 10 selected States in India.

The World Bank Institute is satisfied with the efforts made by Infrastructure Professional Enterprise in carrying out the requirements of the program.

I wish them the very best in all future initiatives.
